Trust the process. Your body knows what to do.

COMMON MISTAKES

- Going too lean. Fat is your main fuel source, not protein.
- Skipping salt. You need at least 2-3 tsp per day.
- Not eating enough. Eat until you're full every time.
- Stepping on the scale daily. Track weight monthly instead.
- Quitting at week 2. Give your body a full 30 days to adapt.
- Only buying grain-fed. Choose grass-fed when you can.
- Overcooking organs. Liver tastes best medium-rare.
- Forgetting water. Drink half your body weight in oz daily.

⚡ QUICK START GUIDE — ALL DIETS

⚡ ELECTROLYTES

Sodium: 2-3 tsp salt/day in water or on food · Magnesium: bone broth or glycinate 400mg · Potassium: meat & broth are natural sources — add lite salt if cramping · Signs you need more: headache, fatigue, cramps, dizziness

⚠ TROUBLESHOOTING

Diarrhea (weeks 1-2): Normal — gut is adapting, increase fat slowly · Low energy: Eat more fat, not more protein · Cravings: Add salt and eat until full · Histamine issues: Eat fresh meat only, avoid aged/cured · Constipation: More fat and water

🔧 ADAPTATION TIMELINE

Week 1-2: Adjustment period — flu-like symptoms normal · Week 3-4: Energy stabilizes, cravings fade · Month 2-3: Mental clarity improves, inflammation drops · After 90 days: Reintroduce foods one at a time to identify triggers
