Hey Alex — 8/10 adherence and you hit your steps target 5 of 7 days. That's real momentum.

Your cravings ticked up midweek. Let's get ahead of it.

THIS WEEK'S FOCUS

Move your biggest meal to dinner, 30g+ fat.

HOW IT WORKS

Like a personal trainer, for your plate.

A gym membership is passive. A trainer is active — someone who notices when you skip, and adjusts the plan. That's the difference. We're the trainer.

01

Tell your coach about you

A two-minute intake — your goal, your history, your biggest challenge. Your coach starts knowing who you are.

02

Check in once a week

Sunday evening, on the couch: how was your week? A few quick taps and a couple of honest sentences. That's it.

03

Get coached back

Within a day, a real, personal response: what's working, what to adjust, and one clear focus for the week ahead.

● What you get

- ✓ A weekly check-in that keeps you honest and consistent.
- ✓ Personalized guidance — one focus at a time, tuned to your week.
- ✓ Human-reviewed responses — AI-assisted, never auto-pilot on the things that matter.
- ✓ A coach who remembers your history — every check-in builds on the last.
- ✓ Message anytime between check-ins — replies within one business day.

● What this isn't

- ✗ Not medical advice. Your coach is a health coach, not a doctor.
- ✗ Not a food tracker. No logging every almond. We care about the trend.
- ✗ Not a calorie counter. You already know how to eat. This is about doing it.
- ✗ Not a chatbot. A real person reviews what reaches you.

MEMBERSHIP

QUESTIONS

The honest answers.

How often do I check in?

Once a week, on the day you choose during signup. It takes two to three minutes — a few quick taps on how your week went, plus a couple of honest sentences. If you miss it, your coach gives you a gentle nudge, not a guilt trip.

Who is the coach?

Your coach is a real low-carb health coach, supported by tools that help them remember your full history and respond thoughtfully. Every response that matters is reviewed by a human before it reaches you. We say “AI-assisted, human-reviewed” because that's exactly what it is — no pretending a bot is a person, and no person buried under busywork.

Is this medical advice?

No. KetoDial Coach provides nutrition accountability coaching, not medical advice. Your coach is a health coach, not a doctor. If you mention medications, symptoms, or a diagnosis, your coach will point you to your healthcare provider — and help you prepare for that conversation. That's not a cop-out; it's the right thing to do.

Can I cancel?

Anytime, in two clicks, from your settings. No phone calls, no retention maze. If you're a founding member and you come back later, though, you'll re-join at the current rate — the $49 lock only holds while you stay active.

Do I have to log my food?

No. This isn't a food tracker. You already know what to eat on keto — the hard part is staying consistent. Your weekly check-in captures the trend (weight, energy, cravings, how the week actually went), not every bite.

What if I do keto and carnivore?

Either works. You'll tell us your approach during intake — keto, carnivore, or general low-carb — and your coaching is tuned to it. Carnivore-focused members can also find us at Carnivore Weekly with the same coach behind the scenes.

Tired of doing this alone?

If you're starting keto for the third time, the plan isn't the problem. The accountability is.
